knocked it down with a stick; and I brought it home, but it was some years before I could make him speak. However, at last I taught him to call me by my name very familiarly.

I was exceedingly diverted with this journey. I found in the low grounds hares, as I thought them to be, and foxes ; but they differed greatly from all others kinds I had met with, nor could I satisfy myself to eat them, though I killed several But I had no need to be venturous, for I had no want of food, and of that which was very good, too> especially these three sorts, viz., goats,, pigeons, and turtle or tortoise, which added to my grapes, Leadenhall market could not have furnished a table better than I, in proportion to the company.
